General description

The Royal School Dungannon (RSD) is a co-educational voluntary grammar school for day and boarding pupils aged 11-18. RSD offers a traditional British education with a focus upon academic subjects at GCSE and A Level and a broad range of extra-curricular activities, including Saturday sports fixtures.

Situated in its own spacious grounds in the market town of Dungannon, Northern Ireland, RSD enjoys excellent road links to Belfast and Dublin and their three airports. There is a strong boarding community housed within the school grounds, offering both five and seven day boarding. The Boarding Department has been recently refurbished to offer high-quality, modern accommodation which creates a home-from-home atmosphere. Boarders are looked after by a dedicated Boarding team of teachers, matrons and tutors.

There is a strong focus on both academic achievement and extra-curricular activities at the school with a wide range of academic subjects on offer at both GCSE and A-Level. Results are excellent and 95% of pupils go on to university, including Oxbridge. RSD offers a wide range of extra-curricular activities, such as sport, music and drama, after school, at lunch times and at weekends.
